My dear Mr. Wood:

I have been requested to identify a brass badge similar to the enclosed rubbing. I am unable to locate any record of this device and am at a loss to identify it. If you are able to identify this I would appreciate any information you can supply.

It is requested that you return the pencil rubbing so that I can retain it in the records here.

It occurred to me that the device may have some connection with the lumber industry, due to the cross-saw and axe in base with the two trees on either side. What the four Ls stand for I do not know.

Thanking you for any information you may be able to give. Very truly yours,
A. E. DuBois

Dear Mr. DuBois:

The badge of which you sent a rubbing, and which I am herewith returning, is of the Loyal Legion of Lumbermen and Loggers. If I remember rightly, these were the men who cut the Douglas spruce out on the coast for the aeroplanes.

If I can find further records of this, I will let you know.

Very truly yours,
